We're your partner in sickness and in health.

At BJC Health SystemSM, we stress prevention as much as treatment, with a program of well care and education designed to keep people healthy and help them avoid treatment and hospitalization whenever possible. Of course, we still provide the most advanced medical treatments.

It's all part of our dedication to improving the community's health. BJC Health System. It's where healthcare is headed.

Shalom,

On behalf of the JCCA and our steering committee, we are thrilled to welcome you to St. Louis. These Games have been in the planning process for over two years and are the result of a significant community commitment. We would like to extend our deepest appreciation to our steering committee, volunteers, host families, sponsors, coaches and to our entire community which has been so supportive of the Maccabi movement.

We have an unforgettable week planned, and we wish you the best of luck during the competition.

Let the Games Begin!

Dear JCC Maccabi Youth Games Participants:

On behalf of the JCC Association of North America, I am delighted to extend greetings and welcome you to the 1996 JCC Maccabi Youth Games.

The JCC Maccabi Youth Games have grown to become the largest gathering of Jewish teens in the world and I know that you will have a wonderful athletic and social experience, and take home with you new friendships and new Jewish memories.

Our hosts, St. Louis, MO, and MetroWest, NJ, have opened their communal arms to welcome over 4000 Jewish athletes and we extend our congratulations and gratitude to them for their splendid efforts in organizing the Games. Together we will celebrate our Jewish heritage, culture and traditions, and share in the spirit of good sportsmanship and camaraderie.

I wish you the best of good fortune in your athletic competitions. Once again, welcome and Shalom!

Dear Friends,

On behalf of the Executive of the M.W.U. and ourselves, we would like to wish all of you, and the host community as well as all the volunteers who have worked tirelessly and devotedly to ensure that all the preparations for the JCC Maccabi Youth Games have been taken care of.

The JCC Maccabi Youth Games in St. Louis will this year welcome thousands of Jewish teen athletes and volunteers. These Games illustrate the aims goals and values of the Maccabi Movement, by gathering Jewish youth from around the world to participate in sports activities, cultural events and social programs. The Games are not only sports orientated, they instill in Jewish youth a love for Israel and a commitment to our Jewish heritage and identity.

To the participating athletes go our best wishes and good luck in their competitions. We should always remember that the participation, the gathering of Jewish youth, the warm friendship and the Maccabi spirit is a far greater achievement than crossing the finishing line first.

Dear Maccabi Youth Games Participants:

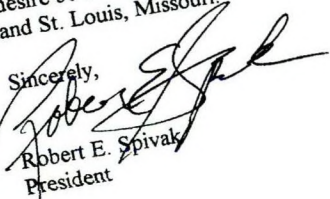

On behalf of Maccabi USA/Sports for Israel, we offer our sincerest congratulations on your being chosen to represent your community and local Jewish Community Center at the 1996 JCC Maccabi Youth Games.

You are about to embark on a very special experience, one that you will share with thousands of other Jewish youngsters from throughout the United States, Canada, Israel and many other Maccabi teams from around the globe. You will have the opportunity to participate in an athletic competition but more importantly, share with your peers, a Maccabi experience.

Not everyone may win a medal, but you all will return with something more precious --the knowledge that you gave it your best shot and golden memories that will last a lifetime.

We wish you an exciting Maccabi Games. May your hard work, training, dedication and desire be with you in this summer's games in the host centers of Metrowest, New Jersey and St. Louis, Missouri.

Shalom,

On behalf of Maccabi Canada, it is my pleasure to welcome you to the 1996 Jewish Community Centers Maccabi Youth Games.

This event brings together an outstanding group of young Jewish people to celebrate their heritage through competition.

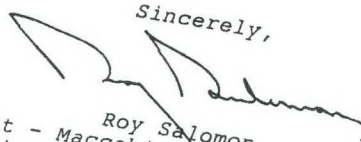

Meeting and competing with fellow Jews from around the world will afford each participant the opportunity to develop friendships, learn about Israel, and share in an experience that will produce special memories to last a lifetime.

We congratulate and thank the staff and volunteers of the host community for their hard work and efforts towards the success of these Games.

Enjoy what will certainly be one of the most memorable experiences of your life.

I hope to see you in Israel at the Maccabiah Games in July of 1997.

Dear Youth Games Participants:

On behalf of the JCC Maccabi Youth Games Continental Governing Body, it is my great pleasure to welcome you to the 1996 Games, and to extend our sincerest gratitude to the wonderful professionals, lay leaders and volunteers at the St. Louis, MO and MetroWest, NJ JCC's for their terrific efforts in organizing and conducting these Games. Because of all of them, all of you will partake of a marvelous Jewish experience combining athletics, social events and culture.

The JCC Maccabi Youth Games will bring together some 4400 fine athletes from North America, including the United States, Canada and Mexico, Israel, Great Britain and Australia. The spirit of the Games embodies our Jewish heritage and traditions, as we come together in friendship and goodwill to express our pride and accomplishments as athletes and as Jews. We know you will leave these Games, not only having enjoyed and been moved by the experience, but also having made new and lasting friendships which will help to shape your lives in the years to come.

Since the Youth Games began in Memphis in 1982, they have grown in leaps and bounds, as more and more young Jewish athletes desire to participate. Next year, as we move to accommodate this burgeoning demand, we will hold the Games at six different locations hosted by our JCC's in those cities. These are Hartford, CT, Kansas City, KS, Milwaukee, WI, Pittsburgh, PA, Sarasota, FL and Seattle, WA.

Each of the sponsoring partners of the Games, JCC Association of North America, the managing partner, Maccabi World Union, Maccabi USA/Sports for Israel, and Maccabi Canada wishes you good fortune throughout the competitions, and hopes that your experience at the Games will be a memorable and important one for you. May your Jewish pride shine brightly here at the Games and throughout your life. Shalom.

Sincerely,

GREETINGS:

On behalf of the State of Missouri, I extend greetings and best wishes to the Jewish Community Centers Association Maccabi Youth Games.

I am delighted to welcome the participants and parents of these exciting games to St. Louis. The youth of our nation are our greatest resource. Participation in team sports helps our future leaders build character, increase their leadership skills, and develop an ability to cooperate in groups. By encouraging our children to participate in the Maccabi Youth Games, we ensure the continued excellence of our nation.

I hope the games excite and challenge you.

Very truly yours,

Dear Friends:

It is my great pleasure to welcome you to St. Louis for the 1996 Jewish Community Centers Maccabi Youth Games. This is a wonderful tradition, and I sincerely hope you are enjoying yourselves.

Although each of you represent very different communities from throughout the world, I commend you on your universal commitment to encourage athletic competition among Jewish youth.

I truly believe the future of our nation rests in the hands of our young people. I am confident that today's Maccabi champions will be champions for a lifetime.

Again, welcome to St. Louis. I know you will enjoy making lifetime friends, and I hope you have a chance to explore our city. We are proud of St. Louis and extend to each of you our warmest welcome.

Yours very truly,

Dear Maccabi Athletes,

Congratulations to all the 1,400 Jewish athletes participating in this year's Maccabi Youth Games, appropriately titled "Gateway to Gold." These games have a proud tradition that predate the modern Olympic Games.

Mark Spitz, winner of a record seven gold medals in the 1972 Munich Games, and Mitch Gaylord, the first American gymnast to record a perfect 10 in Olympic competition at the Los Angeles Games, are two athletes that participated in past Maccabi Games. Perhaps there will be future Olympic champions competing in this year's Maccabi Games.

Saint Louis is honored to host this year's event. I encourage you to enjoy all that this city has to offer, including our world class zoo, fine shops and restaurants, Six Flags Theme Park, beautiful downtown and our famous Gateway Arch.

Sincerely,

HISTORY OF THE JCC MACCABI YOUTH GAMES

The Jewish Community Centers Maccabi Youth Games are the most recent offspring of a proud tradition of international Jewish amateur athletic competition that predates the modern Olympics, the Maccabiah Games held every four years in Israel.

The Maccabiah Games have consistently attracted the cream of Jewish athletes, many of whom have gone on to achieve fame in the Olympics, as well as in professional athletics. Among the many Americans who have participated in the Maccabiah Games is Mark Spitz, who earned a record-number seven gold medals in the 1972 Olympics. Another Maccabiah Games alumnus is the 1984 Olympics-medalist Mitch Gaylord, the first American gymnast to record a perfect 10 in competition.

The first National Jewish Community Centers Maccabi Youth Games were held in Memphis, Tennessee, in 1982 for teens 13-16 years of age. Since then, the Youth Games have grown dramatically with each celebration and have emerged to the point where international competitions are held every year.

In 1996, for the first time ever, the international event will take place in two cities, St. Louis and Metro West New Jersey. Approximately 1,400 athletes, 250 from the local delegation, will be in St. Louis to compete before spectators from all over the world.
